BACKGROUND AND PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Susan Banda-Mudiwa is an Executive Coach with international experience. With 20+ years of leadership experience in the development sector and the corporate world, Susan brings her skills and knowledge to the coaching journey for her clients. Susan has worked with clients in leadership and other positions in multilateral organizations, entrepreneurs, NGOs, and the youth, among others. Her expertise lies in creating a safe thinking space where individuals can think their deepest thoughts and realize their potential and their ambitions. In the coaching journey, Susan takes her clients on a journey of discovery, a journey of amplification leading to a realization of their highest potential and reach of Purpose, Significance (legacy) and Security (values.) During this process, her clients experience attentive and respectful listening from Susan, powerful questioning as well as a sense of trust and intimacy that she creates.

Susan is based in Kenya and has worked with clients from all over the world, including Australia, United States of America, Malawi, South Africa, Togo, Dubai, Nepal, India, Europe, South Sudan and Somalia. Susan believes that all her clients have great potential within them and her passion is to work with them to unlock this potential to enable them to lead more meaningful lives and to lead passionately and collaboratively in their own spaces.

TESTIMONIAL

I found my coaching conversations with Sue immensely useful in helping me navigate a mid-life/ mid-career transition. Her insightful questions and observations helped me gain clarity around my personal and professional goals and my values and guided me in considering different perspectives as well as in framing my thoughts within a broad context encompassing ideas of identity and purpose. Some of the tools and techniques employed continue to serve me well outside the coaching context. – Senior Advocate, Banking Sector, Nairobi Kenya
