

Leadership Excellence Programmes – 2024

Adaptive Leadership: Embracing Agility to Succeed in a VUCA Environment

Adaptive leadership is defined as "... the act of mobilizing a group of individuals to handle tough challenges and emerge triumphant in the end." In today's ever-changing volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous work environment, traditional leadership approaches are increasingly being challenged and leaders are being called upon to find adaptive solutions.

Explore how to become an adaptive leader and enhance your business agility by joining other leaders in this interactive programme that is tailored for the modern-day senior executive.

Objectives

- Explore the concept of adaptive leadership and its application in an organizational context
- Distinguish technical problems from adaptive challenges and learn how to observe, interpret and intervene
- Diagnose systems in place and discover the implications of the status quo on your organization
- Mobilize the system and build an adaptive culture within your team
- Apply techniques and tactics that will allow you to identify the emotional elements needed to lead an adaptive change
- Mobilize your team to handle difficult challenges much more effectively
